Connecting Your Ad Accounts
Before you start, review your ad accounts.

Identify the ad accounts that you would like to connect to Creative Intelligence™.

STEP 1

Log in.

If you do not have an Agile Creative Studio account:

Let’s start with your email.

Sign up for an Agile Creative Studio account for your company at acs.vidmob.com/signup.

If you already have an Agile Creative Studio account:

Client Log In

Visit acs.vidmob.com/login and enter your Agile Creative Studio account information.
STEP 2

Connect your account(s).

Once you are logged in to Agile Creative Studio, head to your “Profile” (represented by a silhouette) located on the left-hand nav. Once in your Profile, click the “Integrations” tab.

From here, select the ad accounts you would like to analyze by clicking on any of the platform cards displayed.

Frequently Asked Questions

01
How do I disconnect an ad account from Creative Intelligence?
Under the “Integrations” tab in your “Profile,” simply de-select the ad account you’d like to disconnect and click “Save.”

02
Can you analyze our static ads?
Yes, we currently analyze static ads for Facebook, Snapchat, Pinterest, Twitter, Google AdWords, LinkedIn, and Verizon Native.

03
Why do I need to accept all permissions to connect my ad accounts to Creative Intelligence?
In order to access the performance data and media files from your ad account, we’ll need your explicit permission. Without it, the platform won’t allow us to pull your data for analysis.

*VidMob will only import the media and performance data for the pages that you have access to. If you don’t have access to one or more of the pages you’d like to connect, you’ll need to add the other users from your organization that have the appropriate access.

04
Is VidMob able to edit or adjust campaigns in connected ad accounts?
Rest assured, VidMob only utilizes a client’s ad account access to be able to download media and metrics. It allows our tool to show you how creative elements in your clients’ ads are impacting performance.

05
What permission level in ads manager do I need to connect my account to Creative Intelligence?
Each platform has different permissions within their respective ads managers. The minimum levels of access required to connect are:

Google Ads/DV360: Read-Only
Facebook: Analyst
LinkedIn: Viewer
Pinterest: Analyst
Snapchat: Campaign Manager
Twitter: Campaign Analyst
Verizon Media: Analyst
